

Program

ENHR 2018 Workshop 17: Migration, Residential Mobility and Neighbourhood Change

Ekonomikum, Room A144

Wednesday, 27 June 11.15 – 12.45

Workshop Session 1

Introduction to the workshop – Maarten van Ham (Delft University of Technology, the Netherlands), David Manley (University of Bristol, UK) and Lina Hedman (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Trajectories of multidimensional neighborhood change over the long-run. An Italian case study: the city of Turin, 1971-2011 – Giovanna De Santis (University of Milano Bicocca, Italy)

Discussant: Tal Modai-Snir

Polarisation, reordering and divergent growth: Processes underlying neighbourhood and urban change in Dutch cities – Tal Modai-Snir (Delft University of Technology, the Netherlands)

Discussant: Mark Livingston

Welfare and housing reform, and the suburbanisation of poverty in the UK – Mark Livingston (University of Glasgow, UK)

Discussant: Giovanna DeSantis

Wednesday, 27 June 13.45 – 15.15

Workshop Session 2

Immigrants' housing environment and multi-layered structure of housing market in Russia: From the interim results of sociological questionnaire – Mayu Michigami (Niigata University, Japan)

Discussant: Andreas Fjellborg

Temporal dynamics of residential mobility in immigrant-dense neighbourhoods – Andreas Fjellborg (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Discussant: Louisa Vogiazides

A geographical path to integration? Exploring the interplay between regional context and socioeconomic integration among refugees in Sweden – Louisa Vogiazides (Stockholm University, Sweden)

Discussant: Mayu Michigami

Thursday, 28 June 11.00 – 12.30

Workshop Session 3

Moving motives among families with children leaving the inner city of Oslo – Rolf Barlindhaug (Institute for Urban and Regional Research, Norway)

Discussant: Michael Thomas

Migrating within Britain: Examining the importance of non-economic motives – Michael Thomas (University of Groningen, the Netherlands)

Discussant: Sabina Maslova

High-skilled migrants in a global city: Exploring housing choices and residential trajectories of Russian and Italian professionals in London – Sabina Maslova (Gran Sasso Science Institute, Italy)

Discussant: Rolf Barlindhaug

Friday, 29 June 11.00 – 12.30

Workshop Session 4

JOINT SESSION WITH WORKSHOP 5

Raising children in the inner city: Still a mismatch between housing and households? – Terje Wessel (University of Oslo, Norway)

Discussant: Anneli Kährik

How do micro-level residential mobility patterns contribute to neighbourhood change? The case of housing estates in Tallinn and Prague – Anneli Kährik (University of Tartu, Estonia)

Discussant: Myrto Dagkouli

'Shpi' and 'Spiti' - Homemaking of Albanians in Greece – Myrto Dagkouli (Gran Sasso Science Institute, Italy)

Discussant: Terje Wessel

Friday, 29 June 13.30 – 15.00

Workshop Session 5

Native-origin families with children as drivers of ethnic residential segregation – Timo M. Kauppinen (National Institute for Health and Welfare, Finland)

Discussant: Kati Kadarik

Reproduction of Stockholm's large housing estates through young adults' mobility – Kati Kadarik (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Discussant: Brad Campbell

Quantifying the impact of selective religious internal migration on residential segregation in Belfast, 1981-2011 – Brad Campbell (Queen's University Belfast, Northern Ireland, UK)

Discussant: Timo M. Kauppinen

Friday, 29 June	15.30 – 17.00	Workshop Session 6
-----------------	---------------	--------------------

No papers are scheduled for this workshop session.