

Program

ENHR 2018 Workshop 2: Disadvantaged Urban Neighbourhoods and Communities

Ekonomikum, Room F416

Wednesday, 27 June 11.15 – 12.45

Workshop Session 1

Introduction to the workshop – Reinout Kleinhans (Delft University of Technology, the Netherlands) and Mark Livingston (University of Glasgow, UK)

Post-migrant neighbourhoods and living environments of high-rise estates in Switzerland
Eveline Althaus (ETH Centre for Research on Architecture, Society and the Built Environment, Switzerland)

Complexity of multiscale residential context: Where do neighbourhood effects end? – Ana Petrovic (Delft University of Technology, the Netherlands)

Government and grassroot initiatives: A symbiosis for social sustainability in Malmö? – Marie Urfels (Lund University, Sweden)

Wednesday, 27 June 13.45 – 15.15

Workshop Session 2

Resisting displacement in Sweden: Tenants' perspectives on renovictions – Dominika Polanska (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Displacement and neighborhood change in Uppsala, Sweden – Åse Richard (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Housing choices in the context of forced relocation – young people's perspectives – Kirsten Visser (Utrecht University, the Netherlands)

Thursday, 28 June 11.00 – 12.30

Workshop Session 3

Social mix and local services in Scotland – Johanna Jokio (University of Glasgow, UK)

Financial capability and asset building among public housing residents: Lessons from Denver – Anna Maria Santiago (Michigan State University, USA)

The promise of admin data in improving housing and neighbourhoods? The potential and problems of problem-reporting apps to target services – Annette Hastings (University of Glasgow, UK)

Friday, 29 June

11.00 – 12.30

Workshop Session 4

Examining the impact of neighbourhoods and schools on children’s educational academic attainment – David Manley (University of Bristol, UK)

More residents in work and greater residential with the neighbourhood – Gunvor Christensen (VIVE – The Danish Center for Social Science Research, Denmark)

Home and school neighbourhood deprivation and secondary educational outcomes in the west of Scotland – Phil Mason (University of Glasgow, UK)

Friday, 29 June

13.30 – 15.00

Workshop Session 5

Does income based sorting modify patterns of ethnic segregation? Re-evaluating Schelling outcomes in neighborhoods in Sweden – Bo Malmberg (Stockholm University, Sweden)

Trap or opportunity - does “cash for care” hamper economic integration, and what role does geography play? – John Östh (Uppsala University, Sweden)

Socioeconomic segregation in European cities: A comparative study of Brussels, Copenhagen, Amsterdam, Oslo, and Stockholm – Karen Haandrikman (Stockholm University, Sweden)

Friday, 29 June

15.30 – 17.00

Workshop Session 6

No papers are scheduled for this workshop session.